Bulldog Day

Spirit Week at Old Rochester Regional High School culminated on Saturday with the annual parade of floats at half-time of the football game and the annual home-coming dance in the evening.

First place in the float parade went to the freshman class (top photo on the cover) which showed a doghouse with a bulldog in front and a small dog depicting the opposing team, Tabor Academy.

Second prize went to the junior class (lower photo on cover) which showed a bulldog with his top hat on in a car.

The Senior's float was a giant sneaker and the sophomore float was a hot tub with the head of a bulldog showing.

Crowned King and Queen at the homecoming dance were Jeff Hubbard and Laura Bradford, both seniors. Chris Riley was named most valuable player of the game.

Other prizes for Spirit Week were: best dress-up day: seniors, first; juniors, second; best hall decoration: sophomores, first; seniors, second; best spirit at the ral-

Selectmen's Meeting

ASSESSOR NAMED

Mattapoisett Selectmen acting upon the recommendation of Assessors Bruce Rocha and John Gibbons voted unanimously for Robert A. Gingras of 73 Marion Road to fill the vacancy on the Board of Assessors left by the resignation of Walter Apperson. Six applications had been submitted and the assessors said that all were highly qualified. They recommended Mr. Gingras because he was born and raised in Mattapoisett, and operates a business here and has a wide knowledge of the town, has building experience and experience in estimating, and because, since he owns and operates his own business, he can be available during the day. The appointment is until April 6, 1983, the annual town election when Gingras can run for a term of one year to complete the 3 year term of Mr. Apperson.

APPOINTED DALE BARROWS

Dale Barrows of 32 Mechanic Street was unanimously appointed Sealer of Weights and Measures. Two applications were received for this post. The Selectmen said that they are pleased that young men, such

EEL POND CLOSED

The Selectmen received a request from Shellfish Constable Al Pauline to close the Eel pond to shellfishing. This area previously had been closed for years because of pollution. The water is now clear of pollution and Pauline recommended that it would be an ideal area to use for propagation purposes to develop the seed shellfish for later transplanting to the town beds. The Selectmen approved the request.

ROUTE 6 LETTER

Selectmen received a copy of a letter sent from N.J. VanNess, Division Administrator of Federal Highways, to Justin L. Redlo, Chief Engineer of the Massachusetts DPW, Boston. The letter states that the September 23rd meeting with the Selectmen of Marion and Mattapoisett had produced "little in the way of new information". He states that just a clarification and expansion of positions were made. VanNess said that accident data on the 2 lane highway had been collected since January 1, 1982 allowing a possibility there was enough time to perform an accident analysis. The letter states that, later, it was found that the information received was not completely correct since Marion was striped last Fall and Mattapoisett in the

The Bravest - The Lost

Editorial, D.C.J.

The people who value freedom the most are those who long for it in vain. The struggle, doomed to be crushed by overwhelming force in Poland, is evidence of that fact. The Polish people, doomed to a life of communism by their keepers - the Soviet Union - reach out for one small spark of hope. Hope is extinguished. The Poles are crushed, they are shot, they are gassed, they are doomed to the existence of slavery. The Polish people know first-hand about the good intentions of Communist Russia. They know first-hand about peaceful co-existence. Let them tell us about detente. Let the Poles speak to us about mutual dis-

It is a strange paradox that freedom can only be fully appreciated from a distance by those who have lost it all. "Peace" is the grave for the Poles.

Other events of the 1982-83 season are the annual Christmas concert with the Sippican Choral Society on December 12, a free children's concert January 30, and a concert March 13.

Dick Stephens Dies

WBSM Radio talk show host Richard S. Bunnewith of 32 Main Street, Mattapoisett, known professionally as Dick Stephens, died suddenly Saturday night at age 53.

Dick Stephens' radio shows have a wide local following and he was also an active water sportsman, a sailboat enthusiast and raced very actively in local sailing events. His warm personality, humor and interest in a range of subjects built a steady following of nighttime listeners, most of whom felt a close personal bond with the host of the show. As a Mattapoisett resident he enjoyed the marine life he loved so well.

Dick and his wife Marylouise had resided in Mattapoisett for the past 9 years. They have 3 children.

Mattapoisett friends are saddened by Dick's sudden and untimely death as will be the many summer residents who enjoyed his radio show during the season they are part of the town.

Letters to the Editor

The Mattapoisett Lions Club is very disappointed over the recent removal of the circular slide at the Center School playground following a vote to do so by the School Committee on the grounds it was an "attractive nuisance". Six years ago it was also the School Committee who so gladly accepted the playground equipment donated and installed by the Lions Club.

It is the sincere belief of the Club that this decision does not reflect the opinion of the majority of the people of this town.

Irrespective of the fact that the Club was never notified of the Committee's decision to remove the slide, we feel the situation was poorly handled. Would it not be more sensible to make the slide safer by installing padding or sand at the base rather than allowing asphalt to be put down as had been done? Was an unwillingness to do the maintenance of the area a contributing factor in the decision? Given the opportunity, the Lions Club would gladly make improvements.

Because a toddler did have a fall from the slide, while both parents were on the playground, we do not feel this sufficient reason to deprive ALL the other children who genuinely and rightfully enjoy playing on the equipment. Is it not the responsibility of parents to safeguard their young children during unsupervised playground time? Cutting down equipment of this safety approved quality (value $1500) hardly seems a sensible solution.

The Mattapoisett Lions Club has in the past taken great pride in raising funds and donating projects to the town such as the bandstand, tennis courts, harbormaster's boat, and the playground equipment. Frankly much of this has not been well maintained by the town. Presently underway by the Club is the construction of a recreation facility on Industrial Drive and consideration of a donation of equipment to the new Senior Housing complex. With all that has transpired we wonder whether or not we should redirect our efforts.

The Lions Club would very much like to hear opinions regarding the action taken on the slide by the School Committee.

On behalf of the Mattapoisett Lions Club, Art Blackburn, President

TO THE EDITOR

The League of Women Voters is a non-partisan organization which supports neither candidates nor parties. It does, however, support or oppose issues on which it has positions.

And the League has a very strong position for quality public education and against Question 1 on the November ballot. Question 1 is a proposed amendment to the Massachusetts Constitution which, among other things, would allow both state and local governments to provide aid, material or services from public funds to private schools.

1. The League is opposed to this amendment because it is costly. It would divert money raised at local and state levels from public to private schools. If only $25. per private student in Massachusetts were spent, we would have to raise an additional 11 million dollars, and it would come from taxes.

2. The League is opposed because Question 1 is discriminatory. Although it states it will not include private schools which discriminate on the basis of race or color, it says nothing about sex, creed, national origin, or handicap. A private school could discriminate in some areas without losing public funds.

3. The League is opposed to Question 1 because we feel a strong democracy depends on an informed electorate. 89% of the children in Massachusetts are educated in public schools. Diverting funds from the public school system is short-sighted and detrimental to our form of government. Distributing scarce resources to students in private schools, to those who have made the individual choice to be there, undermines the vital commitment that our state has made to support public education.

In addition, expanding aid to private school students unnecessarily tangles the public sector in the administration of private schools.

The 1917 constitutional change to restrict state aid to private schools was passed, in part, by an electorate that did not want the inevitable discord, whether it be on church/state-related issues or clamoring competition for public funds from all private schools.

Vote NO on Question 1.

Muffy Marlio, President

There are some added provisions, including these:

1. The operator must stay in single-file except when passing.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Soon we commemorate VETERANS' DAY (November 11) and it might be of educational value especially for you young Americans to remember the 612 acres on the other side of the Potomac called Arlington National Cemetery where thousands of American soldiers are buried - as is President Kennedy who was also a veteran.

In 1921 an UNKNOWN AMERICAN SOLDIER of World War I was buried there - the completed Tomb was later opened to the public without ceremony in 1932. In 1958 two additional Unknowns - one from World War II and one from the Korean War - were placed there. An Unknown from Vietnam will join those - an unknown from that war also, we feel sure.

The inscription carved on the side of the Tomb reads: HERE RESTS IN HONORED GLORY AN AMERICAN SOLDIER KNOWN ONLY TO GOD.

Thousands visit this restful and beautiful spot each year and witness the dignified and reverent "Changing of the Guard" when the military men there - stationed constantly - are relieved as other servicemen replace them. It is an awe-inspiring sight!

As we remember this, and honor all men who served our country in time of need, it seems an appropriate time as world tensions are rising all over the world to pray for peace - a just peace - and especially for our servicemen (and the people of Lebanon and Poland too) who are serving all over the world. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of" are truly what the world needs to remember and ponder.

the De Cordova Museum in Lincoln, Mass. The medium held a special fascination, so that she furthered her studies with Biron Valier and Anne Ballou to acquire a wider range of techniques.

She finds inspiration for her work from the northeast seacoast where she cruises with her husband. Her aim is to simplify the landscape showing the essence of a subject and at the same time creating a peaceful mood.

Ms. Powell studied ceramics with Paul Donhauser at Lawrence University in Wisconsin. She completed her B.F.A. in ceramics at the Kansas City Art Institute where she worked with Ken Ferguson, Victor Babu and after graduating, she worked as an apprentice at the Cornwall Bridge Pottery in Connecticut for six months, before moving in 1977 to South Dartmouth to build the Slocum River Pottery.

Leslie makes pots to maintain an avenue of communication. A good pot can touch so many senses in people, both physically and visually. She make utilitarian pots because of her own love of cooking and the ritual of sharing food with friends as well as for the opportunity to explore form through a material that is very responsive. Grange Hall

MATTAPOISETT HISTORICAL SOCIETY NOTES

The Mattapoisett Grange Hall on the corner of Route 6 and Main Street is dying. It is fervently hoped that someone with imagination (and money) will come along to give it rebirth.

In the files of the Mattapoisett Historical Society is a talk delivered to the members of the Mattapoisett Grange in 1920 by Mr. Lemuel LeBaron Dexter, a prominent lawyer and member of an old Mattapoisett family, in which he states:

"Its birth was in 1816 when it was erected as the third meeting house (church) of the second Precinct of Rochester. The lot cost $50. and the contract provided 'that the building should be built and finished in the manner and form of that at Titicut, North Middleboro for $1,100.'

"Jonathan Kinney agreed to lathe and plaster it for $110, he finding and tending himself; William Bennett of Bedford was to glaze it, he finding glass at $14 the box and to have 3 pence a pane for setting. Abel Howes had $2 for drawing down four loads of stone from the old meeting house. Thomas Snow was paid $45 for taking down the old meeting house, saving the stuff in good order, and drawing and straightening the nails.

"As a meeting house it had a spire and a wide straight platform across the front. The pews were square and a gallery was built around three sides. George Denham was paid $2.90 a year agreeing that the house be swept six times.

"The building has been a church edifice, an academy, a town school, and a grange hall. The local Community life has in some way always centered around it, and it has continuously had some public use."

Now, some 60 years later, may we see it continue its usefulness!

LOCAL RESIDENT ACCEPTED INTO REGIMENT

Midshipman Sean Francis Toohey of 43 Spring Street, Marion recently participated in Acceptance Day ceremonies at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, New York.

The colorful event annually marks the official "acceptance" of the freshman, or plebe, class into the ranks of the Academy's regiment of midshipmen.

A graduate of Tabor Academy, Midshipman Toohey, with more than 300 plebes, was administered the Academy oath by Rear Admiral Thomas A. King, the superintendent. They were later sworn in as U.S. Naval Reserve midshipmen.

The plebe class reported in July to the Academy, which is operated by the Maritime Administration of the U.S. Department of Transportation, for training as future merchant marine officers. Their initial two months were spent in military training and in taking introductory courses.

WALK THROUGH SAND DUNES

The Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies will offer a guided walk through the sand dunes at Barney's Joy in South Dartmouth on Sunday, October 24th, at 1:30 p.m. All interested walkers should meet at the Lloyd Center, 430 Potomska Road, South Dartmouth, to carpool to the site.

The sandy beach at Barney's Joy, like all similar beaches along the Atlantic shoreline, is at a point of seasonal transition. During the quieter days of summer when wind and waves are comparatively gentle, the beach profile broadens into a gradually-sloping terrace as sand accumulates. With the coming of winter's harsh storms of strong winds and forceful breakers, this sandy build-up is quickly washed away, giving the beach a steep, eroded profile. On Sunday's walk, we will discuss and observe these changes presently occurring on the beach. We will also examine the remaining plant and animal life and consider their adaptations to this harsh shoreline environment.

Weekly walks at the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies are open to the public

WRITER SPEAKS TO STUDENTS

John H. Ackerman, feature writer for the Standard-Times, was a guest speaker in Mr. Lynch's sixth grade English class this past week at Old Hammondtown School.

Mr. Ackerman talked to the students about the techniques of interviewing, the development of ideas into a feature story, and the necessity of writing an interesting as well as a clearly understood article. Members of the journalism class will apply the information gained from Mr. Ackerman's informative presentation in publishing their own school newspaper.

"Foxfire" – A Review

"FOXFIRE" TINGLES WITH RADIANCE AND HONESTY

a review by George W. Hayden

"FOXFIRE", is a redemptive play. The human spirit is analyzed, and then elevated into richness and beauty. The anglo-saxon ethic is again at the heart of live theater in the genre of "LOOK HOMEWARD ANGEL," "ALL THE WAY HOME," "DA" and "ON GOLDEN POND".

Opening night Jessica Tandy received a standing ovation along with husband Hume

Cronyn. Ms. Tandy continues to add stars in her crown with this gentle performance. As Annie Nations, she is the earth matriarch herself; both fragile and gloriously powerful. Mr. Cronyn is warm, masculine and humorous as the seven year dead spirit of her husband Hector. He endearingly mixes Shakespeare with the Bible. With Novelist Susan Cooper he has co-authored "Foxfire" from material drawn from Professor Eliot Wigginton and his students magazine. This combination makes for an interesting and successful dramatic collaboration.

Keith Carradine as the somewhat galvanized folk singing son of the younger generation, Dillard Nations, is a sensuous stage actor with excellent body movements and a fine vocal range which includes country western songs. The music for "FOXFIRE" is composed by Jonathan Holtzman, and it adds to the concept of total theater nicely. Supporting roles include Katherine Cortez as the young spinster school teacher with a yen for Dillard; James Greene as the Doctor who aids in his delivery; Trey Wilson as Prince Carpenter, the fast scheming real estate salesman. Each in their way adds luster to a shin-

Director David Trainer might tighten some of the pauses and weak entrance/exit lines in Act One. However, the performance builds to a stirring and engrossing tone poem; like some towering tree with its glowing "Foxfire" lichen. The David Mitchell lonesome log cabin panoramic set is haunting, and the lighting score by Ken Billington is fervent. For those of us who still support the family unit "Foxfire" is a must; an experience in contemporary live theater you will not soon forget. In its pre-Broadway run it continues at Boston's Colonial Theatre until October 30th.

Mr. Hayden is director for The Gateway Players, Wareham, and author of the Pulitzer Prize nominated poetry THE CANCER OF THE FRENCH CANDYSTOREMAN.

said, "WHALE and the Rotch House Committee are most grateful to the New Bedford Glass Society for the gift of the Rotch glasses. This generous gift is an outstanding example of the goodwill and cooperation that exists between the Glass Society and WHALE. It is this mutual respect for each other that strengthens both the Glass Museum and the Rotch House and Garden Museums. This gift will continue to make all mindful of that friendship. I feel confident that Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bullard would be very much pleased to see this glass find its home in the Rotch family house."

Given to the Glass Museum from the estate of Catherine Crapo Bullard in 1976, before the conception of the Rotch House Museum, the eleven place settings of Rotch family stemware, monogrammed "R", were created by the Pairpoint Glass Company in the nineteenth century. Included in each place setting are water, wine, claret, and liqueur goblets. The six Venetian goblets, circa 1920, are made of the thin, bubbly, green glass typical of the ancient Italian glass center, with gilt decoration.

"We feel strongly that the Rotch House is now the most fitting place for this fine collection," says Glass Museum President James Barton. "The Board and members of the Glass Museum hope visitors for years to come will be able to enjoy the Rotch Family glass in this lovely setting."

The Rotch glass is now on display during the House's public hours which are 3:00 to 5:00 p.m.

A sample place setting of the engraved stemware will remain on permanent display at the New Bedford Glass Museum, 50 South Second Street. Glass Museum winter hours are: Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and Sundays, 1 to 4 p.m.

The equipment and software packages selected by Prof. George C. Ladino, coordinator of computer programs for the College, include an Apple microcomputer and business applications software. "The addition of microcomputers to our program enables both faculty and students to use the same state-of-the-art technology that is used in business today," said Ladino. "This addition will aid in teaching current courses and will serve as a basis for new courses and seminar offerings to the business community."

In addition to this grant, the Acushnet Foundation has frequently contributed to programs that enhance the professional management training capabilities of the College. Youth Exchange Program

The Youth Exchange Committee of the New Bedford Rotary Club is currently accepting applications from students who wish to spend the 1983-1984 high school year abroad.

They are also interested in hearing from families in the community who wish to host an exchange student in their homes for a four month period during the school year.

The New Bedford Rotary Club has sponsored and hosted students in the greater New Bedford area as well as many countries. There are thousands of such Rotary exchanges each year, worldwide -- all with the common goals of international friendship and world peace.

To apply for next year's school year exchange, a student need not be related to a Rotarian, but should be at least a high school sophomore, a good student, of good character, and willing to become proficient in the language of the host country to which he or she is assigned.

Such exchanges are the ideal way to get to know another country and its people. It is much less expensive than tourist travel, inasmuch as room and board are provided by the host family in their home, and the host Rotary Club provides a modest monthly allowance. The student's family pays only the air fare, extra spending money and a small sum for insurance and administration costs.

lecture will be held on October 21 at 4 p.m. in the south lounge of the SMU Library.

Professor Lester W. Cory of the University's electrical engineering department and Philip Viall, computer engineer, will explain how a disabled person who is unable to speak or even gesture can learn to communicate through a "talking computer". They will demonstrate the sophisticated system with the help of Linda Texeira, a cerebral palsy victim from Little Compton, Rhode Island, for whom they designed it. She will be available after the presentation to converse through the computer with those who want to spend time with her.

Cory has served as a consultant with the Naval Underwater Systems Center in computer speech recognition and with Universal Electronics. He has a bachelor's degree from SMU and a master's from Northeastern University.

Viall, a graduate of SMU in electrical engineering, has taught computer science at Worcester Polytechnic Institute and at SMU.

The second lecture in the series will be given by SMU political science Professor T. Noel Stern on "Family and Ideology" on November 18. It will cover the influence of family background on our ideas about society and politics.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT — POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

Protect the public not the criminals....

He's been the people's judge. His concern is for the victim and the victim's family. If you're guilty, he's not the judge to go before.
Quincy Sun, March 11 1982

Superior Court Judge Henry H. Chmielinski has been called many things by prison inmates—most of them unprintable. He's been called "The Hanging Judge" and "Hammerin' Hank."
The Patriot Ledger May 23, 1979

Chris Look, the Sheriff ... on Martha's Vineyard ... says, "a lot of drug pushers there are leaving as fast as they can get off the island, and I can understand why. Henry Chmielinski is one of those Superior Court judges who hangs tough up there on the bench.
Boston Herald American, October 8 1975

... He's tough as nails and Judge Henry H. Chmielinski ... can unleash a tongue lashing as harsh as his sentences. A typical was his sentencing of three men to long jail terms. "They're parasites ... They rob drunken people, older people ... and make the streets unsafe for all of us ... The only four-letter word they don't know is work."
Boston Herald American February 3 1980

His sword of justice is sharp, indeed, on hardened violent criminals, but it is also double-edged ... Boston attorney Thomas C. Troy describes Chmielinski as "an old-school judge with both a sandpaper and a velvet hand. He can play hardball, but he also plays fair. He's human."
The Boston Globe, October 16, 1981
